PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear Fellow Rotarians:

Year 2020 passes like a roller coaster and this may partly be what we call "New Normal". I like the Chinese words for crisis i.e. 危機 – when we separate the characters, it essentially means opportunities opened with risks. So, the key to the situation is how we could seize all the opportunities timely. Our cause as a Rotarian during the pandemics is to serve our community in times of economic downturn and setbacks. Many bread winners lose their jobs and children from grassroot family are deprived of digital resources for online learning. I am so grateful that two of our service projects - one local and one global, come at the perfect timing. With the help from the Tai Po & North District Social Welfare Department and the volunteers from Federation of Women's Centre in early December, we managed to reach 40 low-income families and delivered them some necessities including SIM cards, supermarket coupons and surgical masks as well as our "Dustykid" message cards. Further opportunities with this service include a potential job market and empowerment network for the unemployed; and also a potential service cartoon character for RC Tai Po made with Mr. Rap Chan who is the Illustrator of Dustykid. I am pretty much looking forward to this RCTP crossover Dustykid project! In addition, we have supported our sister club RCMSL in the Global Grant Project Tech4ED-Technology for Education, Employment, Entrepreneurs and Economic Development. Tech4ED provides a free digital platform and information technology training to the underserved rural communities in Philippines. It also seeks to promote gender equality and women's empowerment.

Social distancing measure has been reinforced again with the surge of a hundred of confirmed cases daily since early December. As a result, all physical meetings and fellowship events are inevitably halted. Nonetheless, we successfully ran our first virtual AGM with polling using Zoom. We could not underestimate what the New Normal of digital platform could bring us in daily routines. And what's more, we are going to hold our joint YoD project Online with nine different breakout sessions for the career orientation. Nothing is impossible!

December is a special month for many people: Christmas is celebration time for the birth of Jesus Christ; it may be a time for yearly review or a new year plan. For me this year, an additional meaning is the time for my "Mid-term Presidential Evaluation". I am glad that I have been halfway through my club plan and I promise to try my very best in the coming 6-month in 2021. While in Rotary, December is the month for Disease Prevention and Treatment. One of the most effective ways for disease prevention is to be aware of what we do and eat every day. I would like to share with you a global report on "Diet, Nutrition, Physical Activity and Cancer"¹. This report echoes a lot with the Podcast I did with Henry on Global Growth on Health in the area of Public Health and I am eager to do more work on this via Rotary Service. Cancer is one of the common non-communicable disease that is preventable one way or another (except genetically inherited). The attached figure is a quick summary for your reference. Hope this would bring you a healthy life journey.

Wish you all Merry Christmas and Happy New Year 2021!!!!!!

CLAIRE MAK

When a young mother, barely over 30 years old, made an unfathomable decision to take her own life and those of her 2 young children, she must have gone through a great deal of struggle. Her hopelessness is quite beyond my comprehension.

Looking simply at the news reports, one might imagine the source of pressure to have come from the young daughter who had recently started primary one and she was concerned about her children's academic performances. However, this does not seem to add up; and the kid's drawing showing a family of 4 hand-in-hand plus adult-written Chinese characters “對不起” lying on the dining table only begs the question instead of giving answers.

Bringing home four sets of breakfast on an ordinary Sunday morning, to be visited with the sudden loss of his whole family! I would really wish to send my condolences to the father in this tragedy; but really, am lost for words. Similar tragedies have happened before but this time it feels particularly sad because there is no forewarning and the reports made reference to previous howls in the corridor... still echoing ...

During the past year or so, the mood of Hong Kong people continues to worsen. Unhappiness is predominant and tragic domestic cases happened one after another. In the past, when there were such incidents, invariably there would be politicians or social workers calling out to the government to help or do something. In the recent tragedies, it seems no one is asking the government to do anything anymore. If they had no ready friends or relatives to turn to, who can these helpless people approach? Who can seek them out and offer assistance before another tragedy happens? It now appears to me that radio programs of the past where people would phone to talk and even cry was an available outlet.

Sometimes in life we just need a hug. No words, no advice, just a hug to make you feel better.

Here's a big hug from me to you!

When society is consistently anxious and stressed out, no one can really remain unscathed. We need to be more vigilant and considerate with one another to help curb the spread of anxiety and ease tension. It helps to be more compassionate and think more of the others. How Rotary is alleviating the effects of isolation during COVID-19

RI news Oct. 2020

ROTARY INFORMATION

Social distancing, self-quarantines, and lockdowns, all of which have been necessary to reduce the spread of COVID-19, help keep us safe but also isolate us, creating feelings of loneliness and anxiety. Rotary clubs are rising to the challenge to mitigate these negative effects, both in their clubs and beyond. Along the way, members are discovering new ways to serve.

PETER LAM

The science of connection

Physical isolation, compounded by the stress of the health crisis and its disruption to daily life, is having a psychological impact. The Lancet, a leading medical journal, published a review of previous studies that found a high incidence of irritability, depression, and emotional exhaustion among people in quarantine. Why do we suffer psychologically when we're isolated physically? For Sylvia Whitlock, a semi-retired marriage and family therapist and member of the Rotary Club of Claremont, California, USA, the answer is simple: "Isolation is a stress-producing state, as one of our human needs is for connections."

Tools for coping

The very pandemic that has separated us from each other may also be teaching us how to become closer. Whitlock is convinced that online club meetings counter the negative effects of isolation. These virtual get-togethers let us see friendly faces and check on each other.

When leaders of the Rotary Club of Roma Polis, Italy, talked to their club members during the early days of the pandemic, they saw a lot of sadness and anxiety, Niccolò Di Raimondo says. During its first online meeting during lockdown, member Valentina Silvestre, a psychologist, offered self-care tips for coping during the pandemic, such as planning to how to use one's time well, enjoying simple pleasures like reading and music, and staying physically active. "The advice was to live the lockdown experience as a moment of personal reflection, an opportunity to give importance to sharing moments with family members," Di Raimondo says. Whitlock says that reframing how we think about physical isolation can reduce anxiety. "Know that you are not alone. Distanced, maybe, but not isolated," she says.

The pandemic has disrupted the lives of young people, too. Many Rotary Youth Exchange students who were supposed to be exploring new cultures found themselves homebound in 2020. And when schools closed because of the pandemic, Interact clubs couldn't meet as usual.

Homebound

Venezuelan Rotary Youth Exchange student Anniela Carracedo saw an opportunity to help. She founded Rotary Interactive Quarantine, a website that connects Rotary youth around the world so they can share project ideas and provide emotional support to each other. In partnership with District 6840 in the United States, the site hosts meetings that have helped more than 500 Rotary youths from 55 countries forge new friendships. Samantha Walley, one of the site's advisers and a member of the Rotary Club of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, USA, says that what began as a short-term project to keep Interactors and Rotary Youth Exchange students engaged in service and reduce social isolation has been so successful that they plan to continue the site even after the pandemic ends.

'We just wanted to talk'

Members have also found opportunities to build relationships beyond their clubs by supporting lonely and isolated people in the communities they serve, particularly the vulnerable elderly population. "We helped people, mostly elderly, to buy food and other supplies or just to be available for conversation," says Margit Svenson of the Rotary Club of Djursholm, Sweden. To stay safe, older members called isolated people to talk, while members under age 65 purchased food and supplies. It was a simple project that left many inspired.

Clubs throughout Spain, which was severely affected in the early days of the pandemic, also undertook delivery projects that were coordinated by Districts 2202 and 2203. When volunteers made deliveries, they found that people were craving human interaction just as much as fresh bread from the bakery. "Loneliness was one of the illnesses during this pandemic," says Marian Domenech from the Rotary E-Club of Distrito 2202. "Even when we asked them if they wanted help from a psychologist, they responded, 'No, we just wanted to talk.'"

Center of the pandemic

For weeks, northern Italy was the center of the pandemic. In Milan, the Rotary Club of Milano Europa helped some of the most isolated of all — hospitalized COVID-19 patients, many terminally ill. Through the Rotary Connette (Rotary Connects) project, clubs purchased 136 tablets and distributed them to 18 hospitals and nursing homes, which allowed more than 1,500 patients to see and talk to loved ones who couldn't visit. As part of the project, classical musicians also gave virtual concerts that soothed the patients.

CP Donald Birthday Party

A look back of our club's past activities by topic

PETER LAM

At Science park 盈海四季 hotpot restaurant Nov. 2015: hairy crabs were still served but our focus turned to lots of singing and dancing led by 2015 President Vikky and CP Donald with the party theme "Sing Sing Rap Rap"!

2015

At 青葉 restaurant in Jordan Nov. 2017: I suppose CP Donald and some of us became more health conscious so that's when we stopped serving hairy crab for the party ... but the joy and happiness stayed the same!

2017

At Yau Yat Chuen Country Club Nov. 2010. Looks like most of us came after work so most of us dressed rather formally but Tsubaki must have come after golfing ... ?

2010

At 小南國 Shanghai restaurant in Tsimshatsui Nov. 2013: what an extra memorable moment as Pres. Sally was inducted as our member during the dinner!

At Hong Lok Yuen Country Club Nov. 1998: Our first CP Donald Birthday party probably started in 1994 in the same venue which used to feature Shanghai hairy crab and some of us (including 1998-99 Pres. Peter) would get quite excited drinking wine (no whisky yet in those days). . . We are now a lot mellower!

A government spokesman pointed out that the number of award recipients in the two categories of the Chief Executive's Commendation for Community Service and the Chief Executive's Commendation for Government/Public Service this year is exceptionally large in order to give recognition to meritorious performance by individuals involved in the handling of social incidents and the fight against the COVID-19 epidemic in the past year.

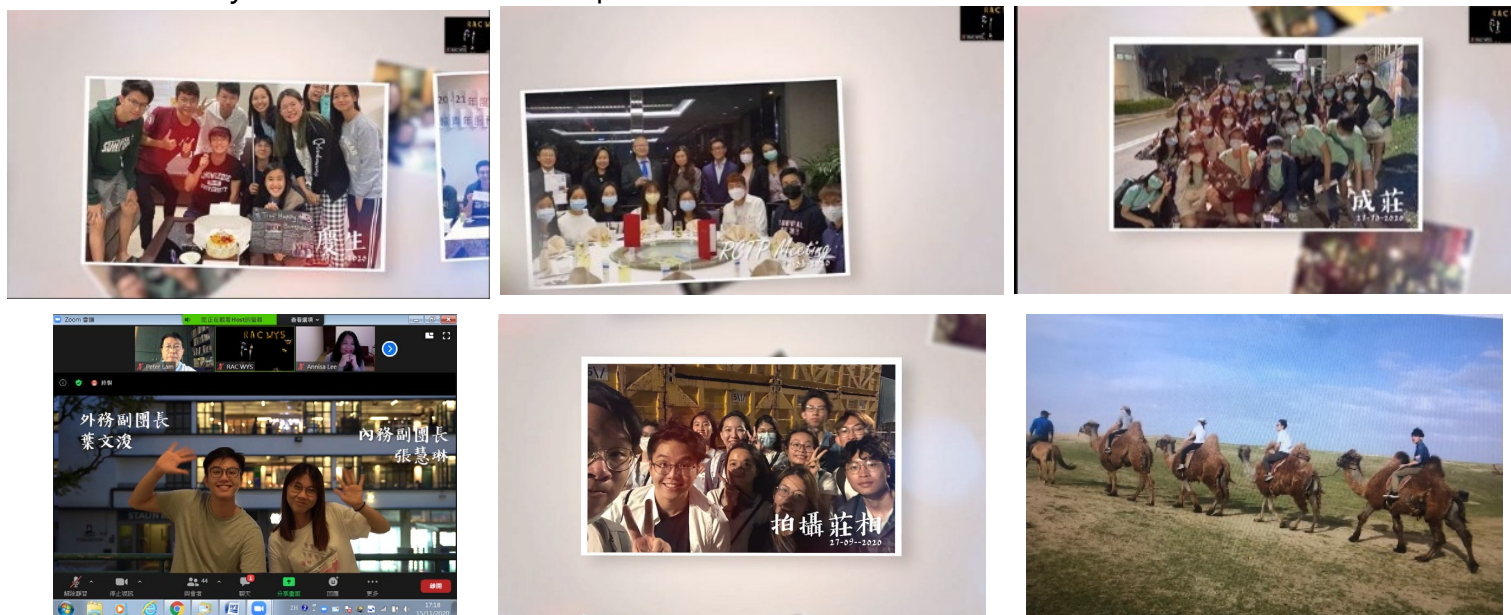

Ms KWOK Ling-wan

Ms KWOK is commended in recognition of her community service in Tai Po District, particularly her contribution to the promotion of youth, culture and art.

In the end of the ceremony, we played various video recordings which are the precious and joyful moments of my cabinet members in the previous 10 months.

Last but not least, I would like to express my heartfelt gratitude to all the helpers, guests and my dearest cabinet members. Without you, the ceremony would never be so delightful.

RCTP Donation of Anti-Pandemic Materials to Tai Po Schools

18 November 2020
Danny Lau

On 18 November, President Sally delivered antiseptic to three schools – Wong Shiu Chi Secondary School (WSCSS), Lam Tsuen Public Wong Fook Luen Memorial School (LTPWFLMS), and Ling Liang Church M H Lau Secondary School (LLCMHLSS). Those antiseptic can wipe out odor and bacteria. Around 52 boxes were sent out that day.

We had a nice talk with principals, and delivered our best wishes to them. For LLCMHLSS, thank you PP William and his son Alaric. Alaric invented a droplets shield for lower form students. It can give a big hand to prevent Covid-19 transmission by sneezing and coughing. Rotary Club of Tai Po has donated 300 pieces for LLCMHLSS.

Yet a bad news has come after a week. LLCMHLSS has a student infected Covid-19. Hope the student will get better soon.

Rotary Job Market 2020

21 November 2020

Immediate Past President Leo Wong, RAC WYS

Echoing the 2020 theme "Rotary Opens Opportunities", Rotary District 3450 has initiated a unique online platform providing job opportunities exclusively to talented Rotaractors under the global recession.

The online platform, Rotary Job Market 2020, kick-started with a ceremony successfully held on 21 Nov 2020 at Yan Chai Hospital Lan Chi Pat Memorial Secondary School. Starring well-known VIP guests from different fields, inspiring sharing and panel discussion sessions were also included in the ceremony.

Before the ceremony commenced, there was a registration session for fellowship of Rotarians and Rotaractors. It is remarkable that under COVID-19, handshake, a traditional greet, was replaced by elbow bumps, to prevent virus transmission. Following an opening remark by Organizing Committee Chairman PP Andy Li, and Words of Wisdom by DG Eric Chak, the online platform was launched officially.

Rotary 國際扶輪 | Rotaract 職業平台 | Rotary Opens Opportunities

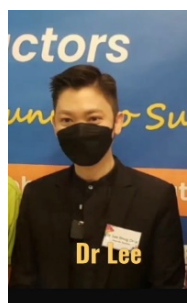

The first keynote speaker is undoubtedly a star guest. Mr. Shih Wing Ching, the founder of Centaline Property Agency Limited, shared his path towards building his real estate empire from scratch. Despite founding a company with billion worth, Mr. Shih was once a Marxist who believed in communism when he was an unofficial teacher in a communist academy. Later, realizing that the communism doesn't work in the society, he then worked in a real estate agency as a clerical worker. Although he was just a clerk, he utilized every moment learning real state knowledge and theory, building up his empire since then. It was a valuable lesson for us to acknowledge the importance of learning under any environment.

The next speaker is Dr Edwin Lee who illustrated the significance of grabbing opportunities against risks with financial concept. He further demonstrated the value of risk doing an auction simulation with the audiences.

After a short break came another speaker Mr. Francis Ngai, the founder & CEO of Social Venture Hong Kong. Incubated dozens of well-known social startups in Hong Kong, including Green Monday which has been promoting Omi-meat everywhere, Mr. Ngai encouraged teenagers to strive to fulfill their own values. He encouraged us to implement our values into actions, and the simplest way to do so is by building a startup. As we are still young, he believed it is the best time of our life to try starting our company instead of working for companies and that would give an extraordinary experience comparable to none other.

Controversially, the last speaker, Dr. Lee Sing-Chak, James, who is a well reputed Feng-Shui Master, suggested an opposite view. He pointed out the one in a million success rate of building a startup and suggested us not to waste our time or efforts if we are not determined to do so. Combining their ideas, it is indeed crucial for teenagers to find out their aspiration and determination; otherwise simply following others to build a startup or doing whatever others do would be pointless.

Towards the end of the ceremony, DRR Alan Yip proposed a vote of thanks to the organizing committee for all their hard works and dedication to providing opportunities for fellow Rotaractors. Ending the ceremony, OC Chairman Andy Li presented a closing speech expressing his blessing to Rotaractors and anticipate the success of the online job platform.

Donation of Epidemic Prevention Materials

5 December 2020
KF Tam

Early in the morning of 5 December and led by President Sally, we met at Hong Kong Federation of Women's Centre at Tai Wo Estate for the donation of epidemic prevention materials to the low-income families. The event was organized by our Community Services Chair VP Danny with the Social Welfare Department (Tai Po / North) with the participation of IPP KF, PE Wilson, and our Satellite club member, Sharon.

At around 9:30 am, we arrived at the above center at Tai Wo Estate. We met several representatives from various NGO arranged by the Social Welfare Department and handed over the epidemic prevention materials including the face masks, data cards and supermarket coupons. We were welcomed by the representatives and felt we have contributed to fighting the pandemic, while showing care from our club as a responsible and caring neighbor of the Tai Po District.

It is a very meaningful event and we could imagine many smiling faces of the needy when they received those masks and materials. A sense of accomplishment rushed through us and made our sacrifice of time well worth it. Even though we only helped a small part of the world, one little step can lead to astonishing results.

After the donation ceremony, we wrote many greeting cards to the beneficiaries to express our care. It was also a very good occasion to meet with the District Social Welfare Officers to share the happiness of community services and discuss the future collaboration plans on the upcoming activities.

[Editor's Note: After the event, PP Natalie relayed a message from the Hong Kong Federation of Women's Centre that the women volunteers have visited about 40 families and delivered the gift bags donated by our club.]

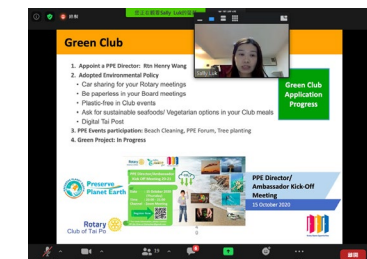

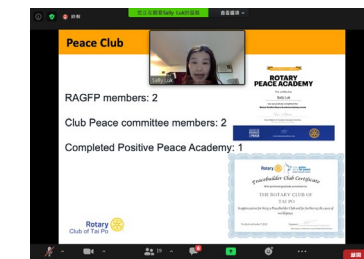

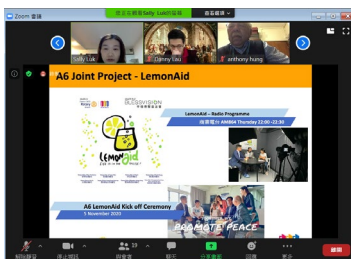

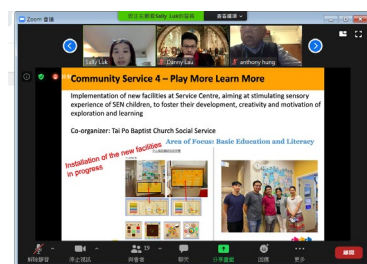

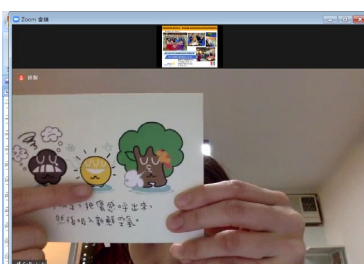

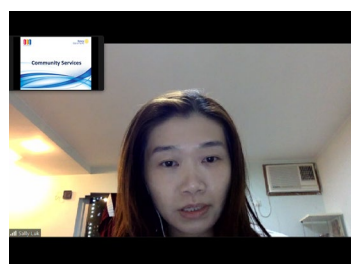

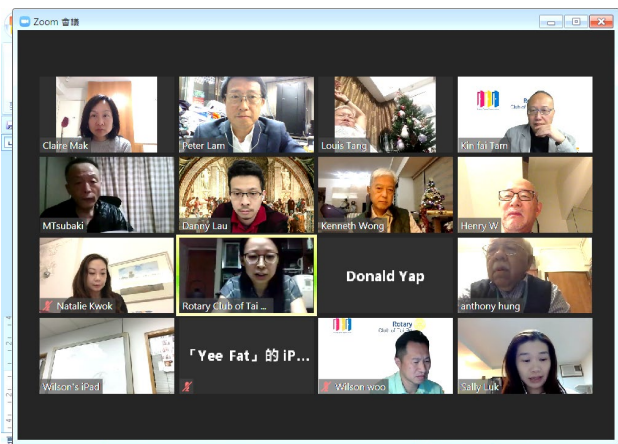

RCTP Annual General Meeting by Zoom

7 December 2020
Claire Mak

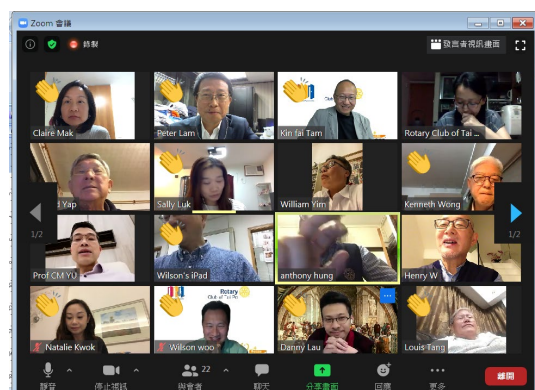

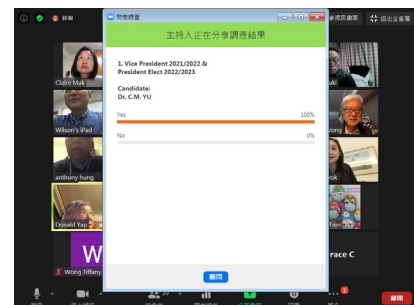

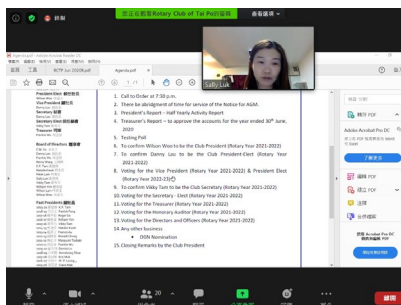

The year 2020 is, by any account, a special year. RCTP held her Annual General Meeting on 7 December 2020 on the Zoom platform.

The AGM started with President Sally's half yearly report. Our club has been doing and finishing works on all fronts, more notably, community service of donation of anti-pandemic materials to Tai Po neighbours, a number of fellowship activities, establishing a satellite club and thus increased membership and manpower...etc. We have also achieved Peace Club and Green Club status.

Treasurer PP Frankie walked us through the Financial Statements for the year ended 30 June 2020 and assured us of the healthy financial state of RCTP. The Statement was duly adopted.

Then came the fun confirmation and/or election of the important posts of the Club Board. We have 15 members present virtually which established enough voting strength. We responded to various confirmation with the clap hand icon and, true to the bylaws of voting by ballot, filled out the questionnaire on screen and duly selected the directors to serve on the 2021-22 Board.

The following officials were confirmed / elected for RCTP 2021 – 2022:

President:
President-Elect:
Vice-President:
Secretary:

REGULAR MEETINGS

Award-winning Director and speaker of the evening Mr. Pako Leung gave us thorough insights to his intellectual and practical journey through “Films & Visuals & Art” and demonstrated by show of video clips and photos how these three elements cross and integrate to form the person he is today.

President Sally briefed us on preparation work for our Donation of Anti-COVID stuff to Tai Po Schools.

As a good friend of Mr. Pako Leung, PP Vikky Tam gave a lively introduction of Speaker and his diverse interests and talents as well as his many awards.

In delivering a Vote of Thanks, PP William Yim offered a comparison of his journey as scientist/inventor to that of the Speaker's artistic achievement and concluded that both require some inborn aptitude, a willingness to listen and an ability to integrate and translate ideas into final product.

Another award winning director Mr. Clifton Ko, shared a few insiders' tips about the film industry; and promoted an upcoming Musical of his.

Lucky guest, PP Roy Ng of Rotary Club of The Peak, won the lovely set of cups given out by PP Vikky Tam for raffle draw.

Family members and Rotary Friends turned up in numbers to listen to the Speaker's passion in Films and Visual Art.

23 November 2020

Youthful corporate trainer and our Speaker of the evening Mr. Edmond Ling showed us "The Way of Business and Wealth 企業與財富之道" by reference to Yi Jing (Book of Changes). After his talk, one realizes the need for Mission (sacrifice and motivation) to achieve Vision (goal in the future). It is the concerted Vision of a company which brings together group effort of the staff which in turn attains wealth for the company. He analysed the interaction among the four pillars of Business: the vision of the enterprise, the invisible sentiment, the tangible technique and that one must first be equipped with sharpened tools 企業之道，無形之法，有形之術，工欲善其事，必先利其器。

PP Armstrong Shea gave a humorous yet very cogent Vote of Thanks to our speaker.

PE Wilson Woo offered 3 bottles of soothing dried lemon/dried oranges honey for raffle draw and Speaker Edmond Ling was the deserved winner.

Finally, they arrived, IPP K F Tam received the belated Paul Harris Fellow recognition.

30 November 2020

As Mr. Dicky Yuen spoke on "The Youth with 3 lives launches his business (三條命的創業青年)" he recounted how he almost died from organ failure, twice, but was saved by organ donation and was motivated to launch the IT/Data/training business Venturenix with close friend and partner Alvin.

Welcome Incoming Governor Norman Lee and Satellite club members Tony Luk, Gary Yeung, Jody Mak and Sharon Choi and RACTP Pres. Henry joining us.

IPP K F Tam gave an introduction of the Speaker and PE Wilson Woo did the Vote of Thanks.
